

TCCL Rudisill Regional Library
Tulsa, Oklahoma

PROJECT DESCRIPTION

Tulsa-City-County-Library is replacing the existing Rudisill Library with a brand new 33,000-square-foot library. The library features flexible meeting rooms, collaborative spaces, technology hubs, and an adaptable community room that can cater to the specific needs of the community. These spaces bring vibrancy and engagement to the facility, welcoming visitors to gather for various purposes, from a large formal event to casually reading a book. The exterior features a book-like design to demonstrate how communities learn and the symbol of libraries - books.
